Partnership With Place Network

Museum Middle and High School is thrilled to continue its partnership with Place Network, a collaborative program dedicated to fostering community-based learning. This exciting collaboration began last year when a few of our teachers had the opportunity to participate in Place Network's transformative Spring Conference. The experience inspired our educators and opened the door to new possibilities for integrating place-based education into our curriculum.

Place Network focuses on connecting students to the people and nature of their local communities, encouraging them to explore and engage with the world around them. Through this partnership, our teachers have received valuable professional development opportunities, equipping them with innovative strategies to make learning more experiential and meaningful. The program has also provided a platform for our teachers to share their projects and expertise with educators from other schools, fostering a broader exchange of ideas and best practices.

Over the past year, this collaboration has enriched both teaching and learning at our school. Students have embarked on projects that bring classroom lessons to life by exploring real-world issues and creating connections with their local environment. At the same time, teachers have benefited from a growing network of support and inspiration.

We're excited to continue building on this partnership and look forward to the new opportunities it will bring to our school community. By nurturing curiosity and connection, Place Network helps us prepare students to be thoughtful, engaged members of their community.

Stay tuned for updates on the incredible projects and learning experiences made possible through this partnership!

If you would take a few minutes to complete the family survey, we would appreciate your feedback.
